ROUNDALAB PHASE RATING SYSTEM

The purpose of the "ROUNDALAB Phase Rating System" is to provide a method for rating basic round dance actions, movements and figures according to the degree of complexity. This system can be readily used and understood by all those involved in round dancing to rate a dance at the appropriate phase. This concept works as follows:

- a. If all actions, movements and figures in a dance are from the same phase, the dance will be phased at that phase.
- b. A dance cannot have more than two actions, movements or figures [or any combination thereof] from the next higher phase and remain at the lower phase.
 - [1] If there is one action, movement or figure in a dance from the next higher phase, the dance will be phased at the lower phase plus 1 [e.g., a Phase II dance with one figure from Phase III will be rated Phase II +1].
 - [2] If there are two actions, movements or figures [or any combination thereof] in the dance from the next higher phase, the dance will be phased at the lower phase plus 2 [e.g., a Phase II dance with two figures from Phase III will be rated Phase II +2].
 - [3] Three or more actions, movements or figures [or any combination thereof] in the next higher phase requires the dance to be rated at the higher phase level.
- c. A dance cannot be rated any lower than one phase below the highest action, movement or figure used [e.g., a Phase III dance with one figure from Phase V will be rated as Phase IV +1].

ROUNDALAB suggests the Phase Rating be included in the lead information on every cue sheet. Choreographers should put a "degree of difficulty" as part of the heading of a cue sheet, as determined by the following parameters:

- a. EASY [EZ] – a dance that can be done to cues by the average dancer at THAT phase level without further instructions by the cuer.
- b. AVERAGE [AVG] – a dance that can be done to cues by the average dancer at THAT phase level with one or two simple instructions explained by the cuer, e.g., "Lady rolls to LOP, not a Cross Wrap".
- c. DIFFICULT [DIFF] – a dance that probably cannot be done by the average dancer at that phase level without a special teach because of rotations; unphased actions, movements or figures; unusual positioning; figure modifications; or tempo or timing changes.

ROUNDALAB recommends that choreographers assume the responsibility of rating their own dance before publication. However, if the choreographer does not rate the dance, then any person can easily rate the dance by using ROUNDALAB criteria.
